George M. Pullman, Palace Car Magnate, Dies Suddenly in Chicago.

His Morning His Heart Ceased to Beat. He Had Been Sick for Some Time.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—George M. Pullman died at five o'clock Tuesday morning of angina pectoris. The extreme heat of last week, together with perhaps more than his usual exertion in showing some friends about Pullman, had caused him to feel of debility, about which he spoke to one or two friends, but which he did not regard as serious. He told one of them Monday, who suggested that he was not looking quite as well as usual, that he had been unable to sleep satisfactorily the last two nights and particularly on Sunday night; that he had some little difficulty in breathing, but that he felt much better than he felt that a day or two would put him all right. He, indeed, was so well that he intended to leave for New York Thursday evening. Death came to him quickly. At about 5 o'clock in the morning, some friends who were staying at the house heard a noise in his room, as if he wished to call some one. They went to his room immediately and found him standing up and evidently in great pain. One of them went to the telephone to call his physician, Dr. Billings. At the same time he himself attempted to walk to the lounge, but before he reached it, required the assistance of his friend to get there. He then became unconscious and died a few minutes later.

Mr. Pullman's fortune is variously estimated at from $30,000,000 to $50,000,000. He is expected to arrive in Chicago Wednesday morning on the Pennsylvania limited. She has been spending the season at the Pullman summer residence at Elkhorn, N. J., and went to New York city a few days ago preparatory to coming west for the winter.

Mr. Pullman, while in apparently good health recently, formerly had some stomach trouble, which he attributed largely to indigestion. His illness was due to that about all the bodily life were due to the eyes. The latter part of last week he gave the visiting officials of the Pennsylvania railroad a dinner at the Chicago club, and was in excellent spirits.

He leaves two sons, Sanger and Geo. M., Jr., and two daughters, Mrs. Carolyn, of San Francisco, and Mrs. Frank O. Lowden, of Chicago.

Mrs. Pullman is being accompanied on her sad home coming by Sanger W. Pullman, the younger son, and a daughter, Mrs. J. H. Pullman, Jr., in the city, together with a daughter, Mrs. Frank O. Lowden. A second daughter, Mrs. Carolyn, is in San Francisco, and was at once summoned to return to Chicago.

The death of Mr. Pullman attracted the attention in business circles. Mr. Phil D. Armour said: "The news of the death of George M. Pullman surprised me greatly, though his physicians knew that he was troubled with heart disease. The city will feel the loss of Mr. Pullman. He was a public spirit man and a great business man. I do not think the company of which he was the head will suffer on account of his death. It is true that he took a deep interest in the management of what might be called the affairs of the corporation, but he told me not long ago that he was well supplied with good lieutenants and that in the event of his death the business would be carried on without difficulty. I think he was aware that he had trouble that might result seriously."

Mr. Pullman's death affected the Chicago stock market quite appreciably. He was said to have been a heavy holder of both Diamond Match and New York Transit securities, two of the most active stocks listed on the local exchange.

The death of Mr. Pullman, besides leaving a vacancy in the Pullman car directorate, also causes a similar condition of affairs in the board of directors of the Chicago Telephone Co. He was represented on the New York Transit and Diamond Match boards by his son-in-law, Frank Lowden.

GEN. BLANCO

Has Given Full Swing in the Island of Cuba—Havana Merchants Favor Annexation to the United States.

New York, Oct. 19.—A dispatch to the World from Madrid says: No money will be spared to buy off the chiefs of the insurrection or to make their departure from the island easy, though all such proceedings will be denied officially.

The new governor general has been given full power, subject to certain instructions, a part of which have been secret even from most of the members of the cabinet.

The reservation instructions cover all international aspects of the Cuban question, especially Spain's relations with the United States, the treatment of American citizens in strict observance with the treaties of 1875 and 1877 with the United States, respect for foreign-owned property, and possible negotiations with a view to leading to the submission of the insurgents, such negotiations, according to the time-honored precedents of Spanish civil war, even on the peninsula, will be conducted behind the scenes if entered into.

The marshal has devoted a whole week to long interviews with the queen regent, Premier Sagasta and the ministers of war, of marine, of foreign affairs, and of the colonies.

The new government affects to consider the state of insurrection in Cuba now to be like it was in 1878, when Marshal Campos used the same devices, coupled with promises of reform and amnesty, together with vigorous military operations, to close the first great rising. Gen. Blanco is likewise equipped to bring about pacification by every means possible.

Gen. Blanco is authorized to assure the Cubans that the instituting of reforms more liberal than those contributed by the Alaraz bill of March 15, 1900, or the Canovas bills, will depend upon the rapidity and the completeness of the pacification which is indispensable to the economic and administrative home rule, which, however, is not intended in any event to go as far as Canadian self-government. Spain does not deem an absolutely independent colonial parliament and executive compatible with the condition of the colony and her own interests and sovereignty, as the majority of the autonomists are said to be disposed to accept home rule in installments.

MATANZAS, Cuba, via Key West, Fla., Oct. 19.—The business office here, at Havana and elsewhere, seems to have arrived at the conclusion that the Madrid government can not end the war on the basis of autonomy to Cuba, as there are not enough loyalists among the autonomists to make public office. At least that is the claim the conservative Spaniards make. In addition, the latter express the belief that the autonomists, even if they were placed in power, would not be able to preserve peace and protect life and property from the lawless elements. In view of this condition of affairs a number of important merchants and sugar planters of Spanish origin, in conjunction with several Cubans of prominence have been holding secret meetings and corresponding with people in various parts of the island with the object of ascertaining the views of the commercial and planting community in Pinar del Rio, Matanzas and Santa Clara provinces as to the future for Cuba most likely to further their interests and those of the island in general.

It is expected that the majority of the replies will be favorable to an annexation of Cuba to the United States as the Washington government alone, apparently, is able to guarantee peace in Cuba and the protection of life and property. As soon as it is ascertained that this element of persons appealed to are in favor of annexation, a committee will be sent to the United States with instructions to lay the case of Cuba clearly before business men of prominence in the United States and ask the latter to unite with the business men of Cuba in a petition to the Washington government, asking the United States, in view of the failure of the conservatives to suppress the insurrection by force of arms and pointing out the impossibility of liberals ending the war by establishing an autonomous form of government, to bring about the annexation of Cuba to the United States.

THE YALE COLLEGE. NEW HAVEN, Ct., Oct. 19.—There is great authority for the statement that a suit for about $400,000 is to be brought against Yale college during the month of November by the estate of New Haven for the collection of taxes. It has been rumored for some time that the matter would be subjected to arbitration, but it is now understood that both parties intend to fight it out and the matter will probably come up before the superior court during the succeeding month.

Annual Meeting of the Spirituists' Association—The Cabinet Discusses the Civil Service and How to Obtain More Results—Withdrawal From the Case.

The Spirituists' Meeting. WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—At the annual meeting of the Spirituists' association Tuesday the list of delegates was submitted and approved. The president's report was submitted, showing that the condition of the association had improved. The report of the secretary showed that the memberships had increased 50 per cent during the past six years. The report stated that the Spirituists had co-operated with others to fight ecclesiastical control of the government, also that the Spirituists would put missionaries in the field to offset the work of anti-Spirituists associations.

Marine Hospital Service. The continued spread of yellow fever necessitates many additional employees in the marine hospital service. At the recommendation of the surgeon general of that bureau the treasury department has appointed 24 assistant surgeons and 52 guards to do duty in the yellow fever section and on the borders of the states where the disease may spread. These appointments will be increased if necessary. The appointments are temporary, the appointees receiving pay by the day.

Edwards of this city, secured his disbarment from practice before the interior department Tuesday, withdrew from the case before the post office department where a hearing is progressing that will decide whether a fraud order shall be issued against Wedderburn. The association's withdrawal was because it was aggrieved at remarks made by Assistant Attorney General Tynor who is trying the case.

The Cabinet Discusses Civil Service. The cabinet Tuesday devoted considerable time to a discussion of civil service and how to obtain the best results from the recent order promulgated by the president. A decision was reached that each department should prepare and adopt regulations to meet the requirements of the order. While each department will formulate its own regulations, there was a general sentiment that it would be better to have them along the general line of the regulations issued by the treasury department, to carry out the president's order. Secretary Page, it will be remembered, permitted persons against whom charges were made to have a hearing and an opportunity to answer them.

Routine matters of the departments occupied all the remainder of the cabinet meeting which lasted about two hours.

Mr. Brown was not obliged to do so, but he was not given any fast work, however. All day the track was alive with horses who were sent around for quarter and half mile races. On investigation the poison was found. The court ordered a bench warrant to be issued immediately, and the sheriff sent and got the parties, and they are now incarcerated in jail.

It is thought other parties are implicated and a thorough investigation will be had. Pollard is witness against parties in other indictments now pending.

Royal makes the food pure, wholesome and delicious.

The Indian bureau offers the best opportunities for women under the government. The available places are reserved for persons of that sex are numerous and well paid. Cooks at $430 to $500 a year, and they are not obliged to do menial work. Their business is merely to teach the little aborigines how to toss the nimble flapjack, manipulate the toothsome pie crust, and comminute the ever-popular hash. It is the same way with the laundresses and seamstresses in that service, who receive from $400 to $500 per annum, with the prospect of promotion to the position of matron.

Widows have gone abroad of late to the effect that women are being crowded out of the government service. Figures, however, do not indorse any such belief. During the 12 months ended October 1, 1897, no fewer than 354 persons of the gentler sex were appointed to places through examination by the civil service commission. This reckoning does not include large numbers of women put into the executive departments and elsewhere as charwomen and "laborers," most of the latter doing clerical or other skilled work, at $40 to $65 a month.

FIVE DEATHS

From Yellow Fever at New Orleans Monday—This Makes 100 Deaths Out of a Total of 1,000.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 19.—Before seven o'clock Monday evening the 100 mark of deaths during the present period of yellow fever prevalence had been reached. When the board of health closed its books Sunday night there had been 93 fatal cases. Between Sunday night and midnight Monday seven deaths were reported. This century of deaths has occurred as among less than 100 cases that have been reported to the board since early in September when the first case made its appearance in New Orleans. As usual, however, Monday's record has been swelled by the terrible criminal neglect of the poorer classes. The record Monday was by no means reassuring. Early Monday evening the new cases exceeded 50 and the death toll reached seven and therefore the greatest number of deaths on a single day has been nine. The cases, as on other days, have bobbed up in all directions. The quarantine system is still in effect, but it does not seem to restrain the spread of the infection and the opinion seems to be born out that yellow fever is not at all contagious but atmospherically infectious.

Two lives might have been saved if any attempt had been made to give the patients attention. Early Monday morning Coroner Lemmonier found the dead body of Pepino Goralto in a house on Burgundy street. The body was lying on the floor and those in the place said that the man had gone to bed and rolled out upon the floor in a stupor. It took Dr. Lemmonier about two minutes to decide that the man had died from a genuine case of yellow fever, and a subsequent autopsy confirmed the doctor's hasty diagnosis. The body was immediately buried. Later in the day the coroner was called to view the body of Antonio Barone. The coroner at once diagnosed the case as also one of yellow fever. Both of these cases had been absolutely concealed from the authorities and had died without a doctor being called in to give relief. The first case of yellow fever at Baton Rouge, the capital of the state, was reported Monday. The case was that of Willie Rivas, who lives on the outskirts of the city.

The following is the official report of the board of health for Monday: Cases of yellow fever Monday 57, deaths 7. Total cases of yellow fever to date 365, deaths 100; recovered, 418; under treatment, 222.

FRANKLIN, La., Oct. 19.—Two cases of yellow fever have been reported here by Dr. S. J. Kurler, a well known physician of the parish of health. One of the patients is Miss Clara Crawford who is critically ill, the other is a little Portuguese girl who was living in a house adjoining that in which Calrod died a few days ago.

THE SUPREME COURT. In the Case of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company vs. the United States, Decided Against the Railroad Company.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—The United States supreme court Monday rendered an opinion in the case of the Southern Pacific Railroad company vs. the United States brought here from the circuit court for the ninth circuit. The case involved about 700,000 acres of land in the southern California and grew out of the fact that the railroad had granted to the Atlantic & Pacific Railroad company was overlapped to some extent by lands claimed under government grant by the Southern Pacific. The Atlantic and Pacific Railroad Co., originally claimed the lands in California and its original maps of location along the line of these lands were accepted by the land office but congress declared the lands forfeited and thereupon the Southern Pacific, whose grant overlapped that of the Atlantic and Pacific thereupon claimed the lands.

The circuit court, however, decided against the Southern Pacific and the supreme court Monday affirmed that decision so far as concerns the railway company but remanded to the lower court for decision the cases of about 300 persons who had purchased part of the lands from the railroad company. The supreme court Monday advanced the argument of the Durrant murder case, brought here from San Francisco and set it for hearing November 15.

THREE MEN KILLED. By the Explosion of a Boiler of the Steamer Co. at New Orleans.

CHANDLER, Pa., Oct. 19.—Monday night, by the explosion of the boiler of the steamer Co. R. Force, owned by the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co., the captain, James Ryan, and the cook, Wm. Patterson, were instantly killed. The body of the engineer was found near the river night 600 yards across the river deeply buried in the sand and terribly mutilated. The body of the captain was not as yet recovered. Chas. Crab, engineer of the boat, escaped unhurt, but the balance of the crew were badly scorched and bruised, but none dangerously hurt.

The explosion was so heavy that the earth trembled for more than a mile, windows were broken throughout the town, and for half a mile away, and houses were shaken as with an earthquake here, and as far away as Lock No. 4, people ran into the streets to see what had happened, and people came into town to learn of the disaster.

In Danger of Lynching. OSKOSH, Wis., Oct. 19.—William Payne, the negro who killed John Cooper, a white man at Fond du Lac, Sunday morning was brought here Monday evening to escape possible lynching. THE CHILDREN. Brought Harris and Wife Together, Though He Recently Killed the Woman's Assistant.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 19.—Jacob S. Harris and wife, the surviving principals in a tragedy which for several weeks this summer reigned a sensation in all America, have reunited and are living peacefully with their children in a pretty cottage on South Spring street. It will be remembered that Harris, after accusing his wife with infidelity, watched her maneuvers with Thos. H. Merritt, a pension agent, followed them one evening in July last to Gratz park, and there, in the presence of his wife, shot Merritt to death and was subsequently dismissed on his examining trial in the police court by Judge Falconer in his famous deliverance on "unwritten law." Mrs. Harris, at the trial of her husband, was exceedingly bitter against him, and declared that she would never live with him again. Harris held a similar position toward her.

Later they disputed over the possession of their children, and the father was about to take legal steps to secure them when Monday they started the community by appearing together in public. Investigation proved that they had been living together for two weeks.

They went on the day of their marriage to Mohlenkamp's home, and on the following day Mrs. Mohlenkamp began to exhibit signs of insanity. Her condition has been growing gradually worse.

The physicians are of the opinion that her insanity was superinduced by the excitement of marriage. Her sister has been in the asylum twice. The jury which heard the case declared her to be of unsound mind. She was taken to the asylum.

Will Cut Fees. FRANKFORT, Ky., Oct. 18.—The court of appeals decided that county attorneys were not entitled to 25 per cent of the amount of forfeited bail bonds, as under the old law 25 per cent were only entitled to 25 per cent of actual fees assessed against criminals, as provided by the act of 1892, which left out the word "forfeitures" that was in the old law. This will greatly reduce the fees of county attorneys in Jefferson, Campbell, Kenton and Fayette counties.

In speaking of the Tammany city ticket in Greater New York, the Courier Journal's special correspondent says:

Will it win? As sure as there is anything certain on earth. From the way things look now, Judge Van Wyck, for Mayor, and the Tammany ticket will get from 40,000 to 60,000 plurality.

While "prosperity" is not largely in evidence among the rank and file of the Republican party the leaders seem to have no difficulty in procuring the sinews of war in chunks of Klondike richness.

Chairman K. J. Hampton, of the State committee, has arranged for a special train, and by it candidate Jim Bailey will be carried through Kentucky, and from its rear platform James will discourse to crowds of the beauties of a pro-growth and his ability to fill as if he had a new lease of life.

President McKinley Knocks the Price of Wheat.

We regret that our President should have found it necessary to check the prosperity which recently made a brief appearance on the stage. His influence upon the wheat crops in the Old World had been most beneficial. Under his enlightened Administration the earth had refused to yield its fruit to the planters of wheat in Russia, India and Hungary. His magnificent statecraft had even extended to Ireland, carrying with it the potato rot. The effect of all this was the rise in the price of wheat in this country, and Uncle Sam, who was supposed to be the only national baker who had bread to sell, could get almost any price for a loaf of it. When he put it up to a dollar the people had to have it. Then burst forth the plaudits of the Administration claqueurs, who, having free seats in the Republican theatre were of course expected to applaud in the proper places. The word was passed around to all the writers of financial articles in the dailies that they must tell their readers prosperity had arrived. They were to pay particular attention to the price of wheat, and show that it went up while silver went down.

Silver has been eaten nowhere extensively except at the mints, and the mints have been forbidden to eat it. Wheat is eaten by the people who have not been forbidden to grind and eat it. When India produces wheat in abundance as it will next year, its price will again correspond somewhat nearly to the silver price and in the meantime great will be the disparity.

But why this present drop of 10 per cent in the price of wheat? Why should the President thus strike at the farmers of the country? We know that he did it because all his newspaper organs have explained to us that he made it go up to a dollar. And, of course it is this subject to his control, he is responsible for its fall to 90 cents and below. Perhaps Mark Hanna will explain this in one of those rollicking, free and easy, homespun, spontaneous, gushing speeches of his which he is making throughout the state. By all means, let him turn on the light and show why it has pleased President McKinley to lower the price of wheat ten cents on the dollar. Cin. Enquirer.

A few weeks ago the editor was taken with a severe cold that caused him to be in a miserable condition. It was undoubtedly a bad case of la grippe and recognizing it as dangerous he took immediate steps to bring about a speedy cure. From the advertisement of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the many good recommendations contained therein, we concluded to make a first trial of the medicine. To say that it was satisfactory in its results would be putting it very mildly, indeed. It acted like magic and the result was a speedy and permanent cure. We have no hesitation in recommending this excellent Cough Remedy to anyone afflicted with a cough or cold in any form.—The Banner of Liberty, Libertytown, Maryland. The 25 and 50c sizes for sale by A.M. Hughes.

An efficacious remedy for lung affections, throat disorders and all bronchial troubles, is found in Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey. This medicine has made many marvelous cures and is justly ranked among the most important remedies of the age.

NOT FOR EVERYTHING.

But if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble you will find Swamp-Root just the remedy you need. People are not apt to get anxious about their health soon enough. If you are "not quite well" or "half sick" you ever thought that your kidneys may be the cause of your sickness?

It is easy to tell by setting aside your urine for 24 hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys. When urine stains linen it is evidence of kidney trouble. Too frequent desire urinate.

It is also a convincing proof that the kidney and bladder need doctoring. There is satisfaction in knowing that the great remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, fulfills every wish in relieving weak or diseased kidneys and all forms of bladder and urinary troubles. Not only does Swamp-Root give new life and activity to the kidneys—the cause of trouble, but by treating the kidneys it acts as a tonic for the entire constitution. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists, price 50 cts and $1.00 or by mentioning, and sending your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., you may have a sample bottle of this great discovery sent to you free by mail.

THE DANGER

With the Expectant Mother is the danger of the foreboding and with which she looks forward to the hour of woman's greatest trial is appreciated by but few. All effort should be made to smooth these rugged places of life's pathway for her, ere she passes to her bosom her babe.

He has all the necessary experience to take hold of the important office of Sheriff, and execute the duties without a hitch. There is not an office in the county that should be more carefully filled than this one, and it could not be better filled than by him.

A SAD ENDING.

Jay A. Frazier Meets an Untimely Death.

The News regrets to chronicle the tragic death of one of the brightest young men in the ranks of Lawrence county's teachers. It was but yesterday, when the young man was in Louis, buoyant in health and spirits, hopeful that in the future he would win a place and name to which his industry and ability justly entitled him. He came to this city and was paid the amount due him as a teacher of the public school at Buchanan. In a day or two he left his home after engaging a successor as teacher, and started westward to try his fortunes in another State. Nothing was heard from him until last Saturday morning when a telegram from Willard, Missouri, came to his father, Eli D. Frazier, saying that his son had been killed by a train at the place from which the dispatch came, and asking what should be done with the body. The particulars are meager. At this writing, the body has not been sent to his father, who resides on Blaine creek, a mile or two from Catalpa. It is inferred from the telegram that young Frazier must have found employment as news agent on a train and while thus engaged met his death.

Mr. Frazier was unmarried and about 23 years of age. He was a bright young fellow, one of the best teachers we had. He had no difficulty in obtaining a first-class certificate whenever he was examined, and was always a leader in the county institute. His sudden and awful death is greatly to be deplored, and the News extends a warm sympathy to all his relatives and friends.

LATER.—Mr. Frazier's body was shipped from St. Louis, arriving at Buchanan Wednesday evening. Thursday morning it was interred at Cummings' Chapel, with the funeral rites of the [Knights of the Golden Eagle. An immense concourse had assembled to pay a tribute of respect to a well known and popular young man.

BIG SANDY'S IMPORTANCE.

A well written article on river transportation, appearing in a Cincinnati paper of recent date, says that one reason for the high price of poultry is the failure of water transportation on the Big Sandy. It gives facts and figures showing how many dozen eggs and chickens we send to Cincinnati, and how valuable the trade is to us.

BLAINE OIL WELL.

The boring of the well on Blaine is going on with zeal and well directed energy. The spot chosen for the drilling is about half a mile from Reub Berry's. Mr. Gray, of whom the News spoke in a previous number, is directing the operations with an intelligence born of native ability and wide experience supplemented with financial support. Gas or oil is sought for, and if either is there it will be found.

ANOTHER DOSE FOR EVA.

Jim Eva, he of "Red Onion" notoriety, is again in the toils. It will be remembered that a few weeks ago Jim was heavily fined and sent to jail for illegally selling whisky. He was released, only to fall into the hands of Deputy Marshall Tom Salyer, who was armed with a warrant for his arrest on a charge of violating the U. S. revenue laws. The officer left with his prisoner on the morning train for Ashland, accompanied by a cloud of witnesses colored and plain. Judge Barr will probably make it impossible for James to visit Louisa for some months.

Although comparatively few know it, one of the most important offices to be filled at the coming election is that of Coroner. Its duties are highly responsible, and none but a first rate man should be chosen. The Democrats present the man most fitted for the place. His name is Abe Ferguson. Honest, sober, intelligent and industrious, he will make an excellent officer. Vote for him.

The voters of Lawrence county should remember that a County Judge has no power to sell the poor house and farm, dispose of the road machinery, make radical changes in regard to roads, etc. Such power rests with the fiscal court, and the Judge has no voice in the matter, except in a case of a tie vote in the fiscal court over which he presides. When any candidate tells the people that he will do those things if elected, he brands himself as unfit for the office.

If there is any law compelling the attendance of children at school it should be enforced. If there is none, one should be enacted. We have in Louisa an excellent school and the attendance is not nearly what it should be. Boys loaf on the streets and haunt the work-shops, not to labor, however—apart learners in vice. In this day of ignorance is a voluntary crime and the people should see to it that its course be stayed.

William Webb, aged 29, son of a Presiding Elder in the M. E. Church was shot and instantly killed at Huntington Friday by Frank Wolcott, son of a wealthy citizen, living in the suburbs. Wolcott was drinking, and Webb's friends claim that not a word had been spoken by either party when the shooting occurred. Wolcott is in jail.

George R. Fish, a brakeman on C. & O. freight No. 95, was probably fatally injured about 8:15 o'clock Friday night, in the yards at Russell.

Fish had just put a tramp off the train and was climbing up the side of a box car when the moving train carried him against a target post in the yards. He was thrown under the wheels and fearfully injured.

Verdict of Manslaughter.

In October 1895 Virgil Staley shot his brother-in-law Lyle Adkins, on Whites Creek, Wayne Co. W. Va. Adkins died three days later. Staley immediately left the State but returned in April 1896 and gave himself up. The State in this trial claimed the killing was premeditated and insisted upon a verdict of first degree murder. The jury brought in a verdict of manslaughter.

The second building and loan association to organize in this state since the Appellate Court was supposed to have left these institutions a death-blow, filed articles of incorporation with the Secretary of the State Monday. Newman, L. N. Davis and J. J. Yates.

The officials of Huntington made a raid on shanty-boats and various dens recently and some important arrests were made. Among those arrested was found Richard Gibson, who, during the latter part of last May, murdered Daniel Webster in Franklin county Va. John Anderson, who waylaid a lumberman at Ashland, Ky., and secured $1,200 in money, was also arrested, and $600 of the money was found on his person. He was taken to Ky. and Gibson is in jail awaiting Virginia authorities. Eliza Weddington, wanted for highway robbery, was also captured, as was a negro named Lewis, who is wanted at Nolan, Mingo county, for robbery. A man named Blankenship, known as "Gypsy Bill," wanted in Cincinnati for murder, surrendered to the officials and was returned to Cincinnati.

The following was sent out from Williamson, Mingo county, recently: "Henry C. King, of New York, claimant to 500,000 acres of land in Buckhannon county, Va., Pike Co. Ky., and Logan, Mingo, McDowell and Wyoming counties, W. Va. has been given a decree of redemption by the Circuit Court.

"This will permit him to dispose of other claimants and to take possession of thousands of acres heretofore forfeited to the State. The decree was entered in the absence of opposing counsel and caused great indignation.

ORDERS AT FACE VALUE.

County orders for 1897 and 1898 will be taken in exchange for goods at G. W. Gannell's.

JOHN H. THOMPSON.

Fellow Citizens of Lawrence County:

By the solicitations of both Democrats and Republicans, I am a candidate for County Judge of Lawrence county. I am 43 years old. My father died when I was in my 7th year, and I have drifted thus far through life. I have my first old arithmetic that I commenced to study, and there is not a missing leaf out of it. I worked it through three times before I got higher arithmetic and algebra. I also have my first old copy-book yet. I used to teach school, and never taught with any other certificate than a first-class. Was deputy sheriff five or six years, and collected money and paid it over, and no man ever lost a five cents through me. I was Commissioner three years, nominated by acclamation and elected without spending a cent and I think I went into the office with clean hands and tried to come out the same way. The books can be opened on me in the Clerk's office and see the amount I received for my services, while in office, and also willing to have Judge Webb and M. S. Burns' testimony as to how I behaved myself whilst I was commissioner.

So I have had some experience in all the courts and never had a lawsuit with any man, nor have I ever been indicted in my life. And now I am a candidate for County Judge, as I said in the outset but I cannot make the promises that some other candidates make. I cannot promise you that I will sell the poor house property and turn the poor, unfortunate people out as gypsies, to wander up and down the highways of this county and tent wherever night overtakes them, for the Good Book says, "the rich ye may have but the poor ye will have with ye always" and I cannot promise to pay the road-owners, and I cannot promise to build a road up every branch and around every hill in this county.

Again; I cannot promise to sue the Federal Government for the use of the courthouse, by the soldiers, during the war.

I am not a candidate for a law-making office, but for an office in which the law is already made, and I propose to discharge the duties imposed by that law.

Now, I want to make one promise to the people of Lawrence county. It is a promise I have made when ever I have been and to all with whom I conversed. It is this: If I should be elected County Judge of Lawrence county, I will discharge the duties of the office, according to law and to the very best of my judgment and ability. I promise to stand by every taxpayer of the county, regardless of his financial standing.

I understand that it has been said that if John H. Thompson is elected County Judge, the money would all be spent in the lower end of the county. Now any man with brains enough to vote, knows the County Judge does not have the spending of the money of the county.

But, speaking of location, I do not live directly in the lower end of the county. Already we have had several County Judges from the vicinity of Busseyville.

I most sincerely solicit the vote and support of every man in Lawrence county and I promise, if I am elected to so regulate my official conduct, that no tax-payer will have cause to grumble.

Very Respectfully,

JOHN H. THOMPSON.

Did it ever occur to you why our Millinery is so much cheaper than at other places?
